Grand Knights Report

Brothers,

As your newly elected Grand Knight, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank PGK Ed Newell for his leadership and support of our council, he has left some very large shoes to fill. I appreciate your vote of confidence in leading our council, but I am only as strong as the men around me. I believe our council has a very strong future with the officers you have elected. I would encourage each of you to congratulate this year's officers and support them, and your council, in the many endeavors of Charity, Unity, Fraternity and Patriotism.

Looking forward, July 13th is our installation of new officers. Even if you are not an officer, I invite you and your families to join us and celebrate our immediate PGK Ed Newell and all of your newly elected officers. Installation will be held in Jaeger Hall at 7pm. Food, beverages and social hour to follow. All Knights and their families are welcome. The State Organizational meeting is July 8, 9 & 10 at the Doubletree Hotel in DTC, for more information see the Colorado State website. Also this month, we have our Corporate Communion on the 31st at the 9am mass.

Feel free to visit us on Facebook or Twitter, or visit our website at www.kofc14398.com for updates and a list of future programs and events.

From The Chaplain

Excerpt from:

GOOD SAMARITAN FAMILIES

7/1/2016

Supreme Chaplain Archbishop William E. Lori

ORDINARY TIME PROVIDES FAMILIES AN OPPORTUNITY TO GROW IN VIRTUE AND A SPIRIT OF SERVICE

Long car trips can be the occasion of bickering, teasing and otherwise getting on one another's nerves. Not every family member has the same definition of "fun." Children get restless and bored. Parents may argue about which route to take, criticize one another's driving and become flustered by traffic and expenses. Some families come back from vacation more exhausted and less unified than before, leading people to say, "I need a vacation from my vacation!"

One solution, for a family that strives to be a domestic church, is to spend at least some leisure time in service of others. Especially during this Year of Mercy, we are encouraged to perform the corporal works of mercy in the pattern of the Good Samaritan: feeding the hungry, giving drink to the thirsty, sheltering the homeless, visiting the sick and the imprisoned. At first glance, doing such things might seem like the makings of the worst vacation ever. But families who have taken up the challenge of the Gospel often have a different experience. In giving of themselves, they experience genuine joy. They forget about their troubles and put their differences in perspective. United in charity, they build bonds of trust and find the courage to open up to one another.

JULY

Building the Domestic Church

Because God is the Father of orphans and widows, we want to reach out to all those who are lonely and abandoned.

God takes care of us; he is our guardian. The psalmist declares him to be the “Father of orphans and defender of widows” (Ps 68:6), a title significant in the ancient world, when orphans and widows were considered the weakest elements of society. Without parents or a husband to take care of them, they were defenseless.

God does not leave us defenseless. Instead, he cares for us by sending us Jesus Christ, his only Son. Like the Good Samaritan, Jesus was especially close to the sick, the hungry, the lonely and the poor. Through his actions toward those in need, Jesus provides the answer to Cain’s question: “Am I my brother’s keeper?” (Gen 4:9). No matter how lonely, depressed, ostracized or angered are those in our communities and families, God has entrusted each of them to us. We are truly our “brother’s keeper.”

Meditation

From an address of Pope Francis given on Dec. 29, 2013.

Jesus wanted to belong to a family who experienced these hardships, so that no one would feel excluded from the loving closeness of God. The flight into Egypt caused by Herod’s threat shows us that God is present where man is in danger, where man is suffering, where he is fleeing, where he experiences rejection and abandonment; but God is also present where man dreams, where he hopes to return in freedom. ... It is an example that does our families great good, helping them increasingly to become communities of love and reconciliation, in which tenderness, mutual help and mutual forgiveness is experienced.

1. How is our family rich in companionship? How can we reach out to those we know who lack the love of a close family?
2. Do material things and busy schedules isolate members of our family, perhaps excluding a parent, spouse, child or sibling? Is there a way to ensure that those in our family do not feel alone?
3. Do the elderly in our family feel lonely? What are some ways we could make them feel more included in the family’s love?

Family Project

Like the Good Samaritan, we are called to live out the corporal works of mercy: feeding the hungry, giving drink to the thirsty, clothing the naked, sheltering the homeless, visiting the sick and the imprisoned, and burying the dead.

Ask each family member to help create a list of ways that your family might help the poor, the lonely and those in need. Once a month, dedicate time to such a person by assisting them with projects around their home, offering your prayers and support, or simply providing them company.

You might also reach out to family members, friends and neighbors who are alone or in need by extending an invitation to your home for dinner. Ask each of your family members to help prepare for the meal in some way.

Scripture Reading of the Month

Isaiah 58: 6-9

The sacrifices and fasting we offer to the Lord lead to many blessings Is this not, rather, the fast that I choose: releasing those bound unjustly, untying the thongs of the yoke; Setting free the oppressed, breaking off every yoke? Is it not sharing your bread with the hungry bringing the afflicted and the homeless into your house; Clothing the naked when you see them, and not turning your back on your own flesh? Then your light shall break forth like the dawn, and your wound shall quickly be healed; Your vindication shall go before you, and the glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard. Then you shall call, and the LORD will answer, you shall cry for help, and he will say: “Here I am!”

Watch, O Lord, with those who wake, or watch, or weep tonight, and give your angels charge over those who sleep. Tend your sick ones, O Lord Christ. Rest your weary ones. Bless your dying ones.
